TWO MILE PRAIRIE TRACT

This 2,898 acre forest was purchased by the State of Florida's Conservation and Recreation Lands Program, and incorporated into the Withlacoochee State Forest.

The forest is managed using the multiple-use concept and offers many benefits to Florida's citizens and visitors. Management of the forest will promote recreation, wildlife, timber, endangered species, watersheds, environmental education and many other values. The goal of the Florida Forest Service is to protect and maintain the native biological diversity of the many ecosystems found on the state forest.

FOREST FEATURES

Two Mile Prairie is home to a diverse mixture of animal and plant species. Those animals and plants currently listed which have been sighted on the forest include: gopher tortoise, Sherman's fox squirrel, whooping crane, wood stork, American kestrel and several others.

There are various natural communities found on the forest. They include sandhills, xeric hammock, scrub, basin marsh and sandhill upland lake.

During the past 8 years, restoration efforts have been made and emphasis placed on forest and wildlife management along with environmental education.
